THE PASTOR'S CORNER

Thankfulness

Author: Anonymous

As we approach Thanksgiving, November is often a time that reminds us of how thankful we are for the many gifts that our God has bestowed upon us. Some are blessed with shelter, some with wealth, some with health, but I remind you now that we are ALL blessed with family. The church in which you come to celebrate the remembrance of our Lord's sacrifice holds your family! If you are a spouse, a parent, you will be familiar with the feeling of willingness to give ALL that you have, ALL that you are, for your children and your spouse. If you have not had this experience, I share with you from my own, that giving your own life for those would not even require a second thought.

I ask you today to reflect on the sanctity of marriage - the love between two people that God created - the fact that you would do anything for your spouse and they would as well. I ask you to reflect on the miracle that offspring brings to the world. Now I ask you to think of one more thing...God so loves us, His offspring, that he allowed His Son to take human form and make the ultimate sacrifice for us. For US! One last challenge I leave with you...God gave us ALL through His son, Jesus - what are we giving back to Him? In our actions, in our words, in the way we live our lives. He made an incredible sacrifice for us...what are we giving back to Him? How thankful are we?
